

CONTACTS

Joseph Tarantino, DPM, FACFAS

Program Director
jtaranti@ehs.org

Arnold Hertz, DPM, FACFAS

Residency Program Director
ahertz@ehs.org

Marianne Duggan

Residency and Fellowship Coordinator
mduggan@ehs.org
718-869-7107

ST. JOHN'S EPISCOPAL HOSPITAL
EPISCOPAL HEALTH SERVICES INC.

327 Beach 19th St., Far Rockaway, NY 11691

Wound Care and Hyperbaric Medicine Fellowship

(CPME-Approved)

ST. JOHN'S EPISCOPAL HOSPITAL
EPISCOPAL HEALTH SERVICES INC.

ABOUT OUR PROGRAM

St. John's Episcopal Hospital's Wound Care and Hyperbaric Medicine Fellowship is a 12-month program beginning July 1. The program offers a hospital and clinic environment with on-site hyperbaric medicine.

Fellows are given the opportunity to work with various departments throughout the hospital, such as infectious disease, dermatology, and general, vascular, and podiatric surgery.

ABOUT ST. JOHN'S EPISCOPAL HOSPITAL

- The only full-service hospital on the Rockaway Peninsula
- 240-bed community hospital
- More than 400 physicians
- Level 2 Trauma Center
- Teaching affiliate of Ross Medical School, LECOM, and William Carey Medical School

OUR TEAM

Joseph Tarantino, DPM, FACFAS

Arnold Hertz, DPM, FACFAS

Thomas Lubeski, DO, FACOS, WCC

Changrae Kim, DPM

Susan Hannigan, MSN, RN, WCC

AUTHORIZED POSITIONS: 4

- Must be a graduate of a three-year CPME-approved residency
- Visa accepted (H1 or J1)

SALARIES AND BENEFITS

- $1000 academic stipend
- $1000 conference allowance
- Hyperbaric Therapy Certificate
- White coats and scrubs
- Meal allowance-$110 per month
- 4 weeks of vacation, 12 sick days, and 4 personal days
- Medical, dental, optical, and Rx insurance
- PGY 4-Level salary

ROTATIONS

- Infectious Disease-2 weeks
- Dermatology-2 weeks
- Hyperbaric therapy training-1 week

ACADEMIA

- Bi-weekly wound care text book presentation
- Bi-weekly case presentations
- "E-present" online lectures
- Attending lecture series
- Journal and lecture series at NewYork-Presbyterian Queens
- 1 research project is required (quality consistent for publication)